

The last thing a musician needs to hear... The old “exposure” line!

Yeah... if the Beatles came to Guadalajara and my band was asked to open for them for “exposure” I would no doubt do it. But when rinky dink clubs in small towns think it’s “great exposure” for any band... it isn’t!

One of the things I’ve been working at since coming down here is putting an end to bands and other entertainers playing for “tacos and a beer” and I must say it I hope it has improved for many over the past 7+ years I’ve been doing this little newsletter.

Also it’s not uncommon to see a tip jar when a group is playing in a club as for a regular gig the bands play for less of a fee than they would get a bigger or special event.

I don’t think people stop to think about the time, money and energy a performer goes through to get up and entertain folks... but they should. I know how the Peso works and maybe 100 or 200 Peso tip sounds like a lot of money but really it’s only $5 or $10 USD and if you had a good time and enjoyed the entertainment... not a lot, and it sure is great for the musicians.

I talked with a first timer down here from Canada (and not a big city) who after a few weeks out of a 3 month visit sent me an e-mail to unsubscribe and told me that they had second thoughts about being here. All they did was go on a couple of shopping trips to Guadalajara and watch TV... I just unsubscribed them.

Probably if they had gone out a bit (they had a rental car and were obviously not short of dough) instead of sitting in their rental house watching TV they'd have probably enjoyed their visit more... I guess fun, good food and such aren't appreciated by all.

I look forward to seeing you somewhere... SOON!

Regards,

Francis Dryden
