

All this time without live music has hopefully made people realize how truly important live music and local musicians are to their communities.

Need I say more?

Right after I sent out the notice for the newsletter last week I got an e-mail back from a “Karen” (hate using that name for these people because I know so many delightful gals named Karen) who will go unnamed... in this nasty missive she asked, “If I was actually promoting for people to get together”! It wouldn’t have been near as incredible if it wasn’t for the fact that she had requested to get the e-mail herself 6 months ago!

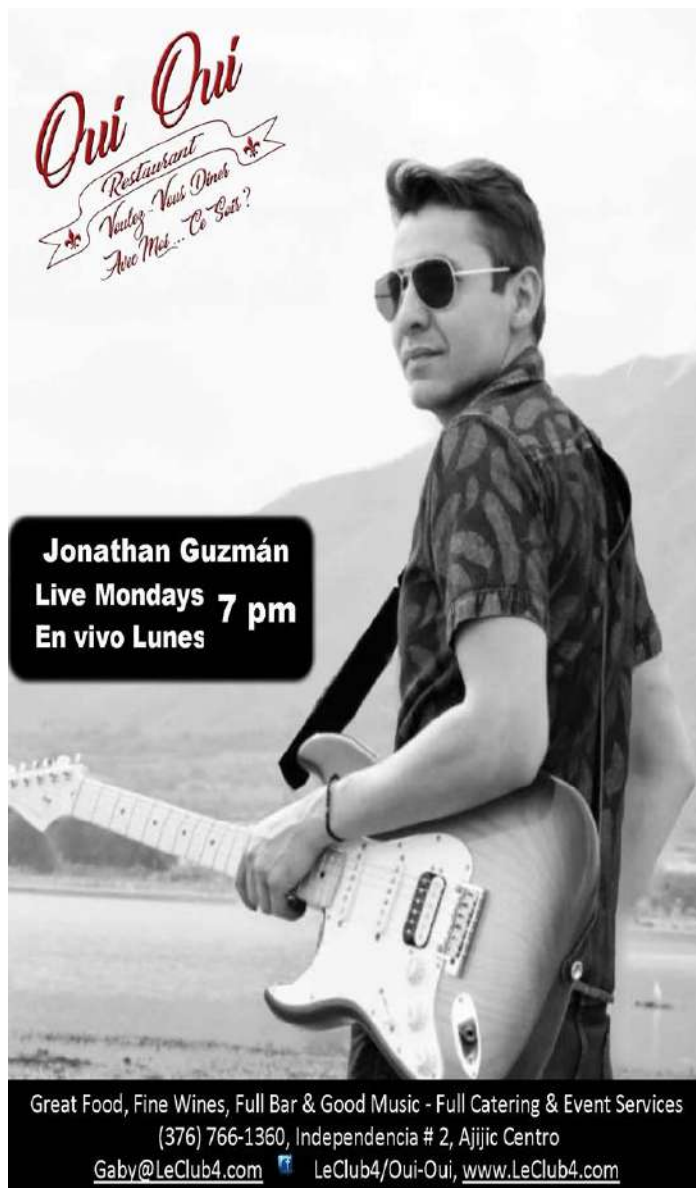

I e-mailed her back and told her she would no longer be bothered by me doing what I have been doing for about the last 8 years... and removed her from my very private mailing list.

LAKESIDE LITTLE THEATRE PRESENTS!

While you've been watching YouTube, we've been creating it!

Although we have been closed for business since mid-March because of COVID-19, we have been looking for ways to keep you connected to theatre in general and Lakeside Little Theatre in particular. We are pleased to present:

The Importance of Being Earnest* by Oscar Wilde directed by David Goldman

The project was filmed and edited by Wayne Willis Waterman, who is presently in Portland, using the Zoom and OBS Ninja platforms. To enhance realism, JeanMarie Harmon managed the teleprompter, which allowed the actors to look in the camera. The cast, who mostly performed independently from their homes, includes:

- Donna Burroughs as Miss Prism
- Richard Cohn-Lee as Merriman
- Mark Donaldson as John Worthing
- Marsha Carson Heaton as Lady Bracknell
- Mark Heaton as Lane
- Johanna Labadie as Cecily Cardew

- Dave McIntosh as Rev. Canon Chasuble
- Devin VanDomelin as Gwendolen Fairfax
- Wayne Willis Waterman as Algernon Moncrief

We hope you enjoy this production, which is just under two hours. You can view it on our YouTube channel by clicking on the link below.

If you are interested in being a part of Lakeside Little Theatre, either backstage or onstage, please contact us at volunteer@lakesidelittletheatre.com.
