you.

I sure hope so...
I haven't played since March 10th!

I guess it is good to have a little break once in a while but 6 months isn't a little break. I had a fall a couple of months back and was worried about getting back but all has been feeling good for a few weeks now... hurt my left elbow and wrist. Hope with me will you?... Thanks!

"LIVE" THEATRE

As part of our Playhouse – Actors Studio series, Lakeside Little Theatre is pleased to announce our next event:

All the Web's a Stage:

Improv session on Zoom!

No experience necessary
This two hour session is limited to 10 participants -
one per Zoom screen

When: Wednesday, September 16, 2020, starting at 3:00

Participants are expected to participate!

Deadline for registering is September 15, 2020.

To join us, make a reservation at:

playhouserervations@lakesidelittletheatre.com

You are only considered as a registered participant when you receive a confirmation email.

The login details for the Zoom session will be sent to participants on the morning of the 16th. You'll need to download the app on your tablet or phone from your app store. If you'll be using your laptop or desktop computer, to sign up go to <https://zoom.us/>.

Improvisational theatre, often called improvisation or improv, is the form of theatre, often comedy, in which most or all of what is performed is unplanned or unscripted: created spontaneously by the performers. The afternoon session will be comprised of various exercises to hone your listening skills, ability to react and use your creativity. Yes and, the emphasis is on having fun!

The saying from improv is “bring a brick, not a cathedral.” Basically, a successful improviser should come into a scene with an open mind instead of demanding that their scene partner follow their lead. Collaboration is key.

You will explore:
The difference between 'showing'
feelings & really feeling them.
How to access strong internal emotions.
How to rid yourself of self-consciousness while being watched.
Acting with spontaneity & instinct, moment to moment rather than
from preconceived ideas.
Stepping outside of your habitual patterns & behaviours to look behind the 'character' you play in life.
How to become a more interesting and dynamic actor, with a broader casting range

Jo Romero is an award
winning comedian, actor & teacher with more than 25 years extensive experience in the performing arts.

Most recently coaching in LA,
London, Paris and New York, Jo is looking forward to bringing her unique style of teaching that encourages students to take risks, step into the unknown, work from their instinct & play!
