I see all too many folks... Walking past the Tip Jar!

Most of the entertainers in the restaurants and clubs aren't being paid enough to entertain you because of a whole bunch of reasons including... this Covid thing... not right.

I see some that go and dance all night long... don't buy a dinner, a drink nor a tip... I guarantee you!

What people don't seem to understand is that the expensive instruments on the stage don't move themselves around, the performers don't wake up one morning playing an instrument... it takes years of practice while other kids are out playing games... many are sitting in a room practicing their chosen instrument.

So the next time you see a tip jar on the stage... walk up and put in a fair tip... it is always appreciated and put to good use.

A few years back, when I was playing in Canada we were getting pretty good money and never put out a tip jar... but this isn't Canada or the US!

Meet the director of Cake Walk

Comments by Collette Clavadetscher

Lakeside Little Theatre had a tradition pre-COVID of hosting a kick-off party before the season opened. This gave all the directors an opportunity to talk about their plays and give our season ticket holders a glimpse of what each play is about. With COVID restrictions, that wasn't possible this year. So, in an effort to give each director an opportunity to speak about their play, brief videos were produced and our patrons can get a similar sense about the story. Cut and paste the video link below to hear what Collette has to say about this hilarious, farcical comedy.

<https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=kkmUkiog5HY>

Cake Walk is the final play of the season, performing from March 25 through April 3 (except Monday, March 28). Collette Clavadetscher directs the cast of seven. Light fare to end the season, Cake Walk is set in a small Canadian town, where contestants in a baking competition vie for coveted prizes, on July 1, 1984 (Canada Day): a time before cell phones, social media, and COVID!

Tickets are currently on sale. Purchases at the box office will be possible on March 23, 24, 30 and 31 from 10:00 to noon, as well as one hour before each performance. Tickets are 300 pesos each.

You're going to love this comedy directed by Collette Clavdetcher featuring Barbara Pruitt, Pamela Johnson, Georgette Richmond, Tracy Foy, Sofi Randall, Maloy Murdock and Glenn Kay. Playing from March 25th to April 3rd.
